WELL, WELL TIM GOTCHED A FISH

First to Register in Local Association's Big Fish Contest

Floyd Timmerman caught a fish—no insignificant minnow, but a native trout no less than eighteen inches or two feet in length. It weighed three pounds—all but two ounces—and bore the usual markings of a trout, speckles, and fins and scales and other points of distinction.

Tim, as a scribe on the Standard Examiner has for the past week or two been relating his prowess as a fisherman, but his tales were not carried out in practice and the sum total of his catch, until last evening, was a four inch minnow that was returned to the creek for future reference.

With his catch of last night, however, Tim has firmly established his reputation as a second Isaac Walton, and admiring friends point at him as he walks along the street, and whisper "Three pound trout."

Tim isn't conceited regarding his catch, and were it not for the fact that a fellow scribe was along at the time, the world would probably have never known how narrowly Tim escaped death in capturing the fish.

Tim and the said fellow worker, were in a boat at Stillwater, above the dam at Pineview. Shortly after starting the cruise, which had been planned with the view of making inroads on the finny tribe, Tim got a big bite. He was for jumping from the boat after the fish but contented himself with reeling in all but about six feet of his line. With the pole bent until it resembled a horseshoe, Tim shouted excitedly for the onlookers to land the trout. With persuasion, he consented finally to allow the fish a little room in which to battle and after a struggle which nearly tipped over the boat, landed the monster.

In relating the incident at the Standard-Examiner office today Tim said, "You should have seen that trout's eyes bulge out when he saw who it was that had caught him."

Incidentally, Tim is the first fisherman to register his catch in the Weber County Rod and Gun association contest. The rules of the contest have been arranged as follows, and Tim is against any one catching bigger fish with the same kind of bait.

Rules Governing the Big Fish Contest.

1. Fisherman must be a member of the Weber County Rod and Gun association, and his name must be on the books of the secretary prior to catching said fish.

2. Fish must be a trout, caught in Ogden river or its tributaries by the method described by law as angling, and during the lawful open season of 1920. Fish caught in hatcheries or private ponds are barred from this contest.

3. Fish may be weighed at any house giving a prize for the said fish at the option of the fisherman witnessed by at least three persons other than the fisherman.

4. Fisherman must file with secretary of Weber County Rod and Gun association, the kind of trout, time of day, place, date, kind of bait, spoon or fly, and size of hook used to catch said fish.

5. Two prizes will be offered; one for the largest fish caught with bait, or spoon, and the other for the largest fish caught with artificial fly. In case of tie for either prize, prize will be divided by merchant donating same.

6. Any member found guilty of violating any fish or game laws during the 1920 season will not be entitled to compete in this contest.

SAM JUST,
REN JORD,

To Talk Tonight On Third Party's Aims

Aims and purposes of Utah's new political party will be explained tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Central park by Harold Williams, first vice president of the committee of forty-eight.

Mr. Williams spoke in Salt Lake last night at a meeting held in the New-house hotel, and was followed by W. H. Ryan, a member of the national party.

During his Salt Lake address, Mr. Williams threw himself open to questions and much discussion followed.

Mr. Ryan predicted that the new party would sweep the country in the coming election. He further said that the time had come when the nation needed a new tonic in the form of a new political party.

Mr. Williams will arrive here this evening at 7:15 o'clock over the Bamberger line.

SAM V. STEWART IS SUGGESTED AS VICE PRESIDENT

BUTTE, Mont., June 22.—Governor Samuel V. Stewart's name as a Democratic candidate for vice president will be placed in nomination at the national convention in San Francisco by Senator T. J. Walsh of Montana. It was announced by Governor Stewart before leaving Butte for San Francisco.

CADETS ENJOY LIFE AT CAMP

One of Ogden Boys at Camp Kearny Writes Home of Experiences

Content with army "grub," and well content with army life today, Ogden members of the High school R. O. T. C. are having the time of their lives at Camp Kearny, according to communication received today from Elmore Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith of this city.

He says that beans have failed to appear on the camp menu, as yet, and that hard-boiled eggs are scarce. The high school boys from Ogden are associating with a number of fellows from Idaho, Wyoming and New Mexico, and are charmed with army life.

The boys are sleeping in tents, which young Smith says are kept scrupulously clean. One of the big factors in the excessive cleanliness being a daily inspection by "The Mayor."

He says that the company is in charge of a sergeant, who is acting as Captain over the unit. This man, Smith says, has put 27 years in the service, and is a wonderfully preserved man, not looking more than 20 or 35 years old.

As a postscript to his letter, Smith asked that his Infantry Drill Regulation book be forwarded to him at once, as he may have use for it before he returns.

"ACORN" READY FOR STUDENTS

Weber's Annual Publication Off Press for Distribution to Pupils

Completion of the Weber Normal College annual publication, "The Acorn," was announced today. The books are now ready for distribution. Students of the school who hold subscriptions for the books will be able to procure their copies by calling at the office of the school Wednesday between the hours of 5 p. m. and 9 p. m. The copies will also be procurable on Thursday and Friday of this week.

This edition of "The Acorn" is the seventeenth to have been put out by members of the school. It is believed by the present Acorn staff that this effort sets a mark at which future publications will have to extend themselves to surpass.

A complete record, in picture and print, of activities at the school during the past season, are embodied in the annual edition.

Considerable credit is due the editor, Miss Ida Scowcroft for the arrangement of the edition. Notwithstanding the fact that attention devoted to her studies during the year won for her the honor of being valedictorian of her class, Miss Scowcroft, assisted by staff members of the "Acorn," found time to make the book one of the best ever put out by the school.

ROCKEFELLER VISITS OGDEN

Oil King's Son and Party Stop Off Here En Route to Coast

John D. Rockefeller Jr., and party arrived in Ogden today at 1:15 p. m. from their tour of the Pacific coast and spent two hours here before departing for the west. The party is bound for San Francisco and other coast points.

Illness in the immediate family of John Rockefeller caused an alt in his schedule last week, the multi-millionaire having planned a fishing trip to Ogden canyon for several days.

They motored to Ogden canyon and points of interest prior to departing for the west. Mr. Rockefeller will attend the Democratic national convention at San Francisco.

Scowcroft Concern Increases Capital

Amendment to articles of incorporation of John Scowcroft & Sons' company has been filed with the county clerk, increasing the capital from $100,000 to $250,000, with shares of the par value of $100 each. The affidavit of the company was signed by Joseph Scowcroft, president, and Willard Scowcroft, secretary and treasurer.

According to a statement made by Mr. Scowcroft, the increase in capital stock was made for the purpose of handling the growth of the business and the branching out of the company into the tea, coffee and spice business, as well as the enlargement of the plant for the manufacture of clothes for workmen. In the new daylight factory the company employs 200 women and girls in the manufacture of clothes and underwear. President Scowcroft said the increased stock was taken by members of the firms and its employees.

RESTFUL RESULTS FOR MEN.

Only a person who has experienced that awful "all night" cough that sometimes follows influenza, can appreciate what a good night's sleep can be. Mrs. Annie Davidson, 2080 Myrtle St., Long Beach, Cal., writes: "The result of using Foley's Honey and Tar was a restful one for me." Foley's Honey and Tar checks harsh, racking coughs; eases wheezy breathing; stops tickling in throat; covers raw, irritated surfaces with a soothing, healing coating. A. R. Furfural, which has been so rare that it sold for $20 a pound, has been found to be a by-product of corn-cobs and now costs 20 cents a pound. It is a basis intermediary in dyes.
